The Valley of Democracy

The People and Activities of the Middle West

by

Meredith Nicholson

War conditions permeate this book upon which Mr. Nicholson has worked for more than a year. He has travelled in that time and talked with many kinds of men, and has watched the development of the war spirit in the West from apathy to enthusiasm. He also knows a great deal about the German-American attitude out there.

In short, this is a book of the present day—a thoughtful book—a book that pictures the Valley of Democracy coming to be, as the author says, "The Valley of Decision."

The contents of the volume is: I. The Folks and Their Folksiness; II. Chicago; III. Types and Diversions; IV. The Farmer of the Middle West; V. The Middle West in Politics; VI. The Spirit of the West.

Lovers of Louisiana

By GEORGE W. CABLE.

This delightful romance opens at Atlantic City. There two old New Orleans families, between which a certain inherited hostility existed, are thrown together for a time, with the result that the young lawyer who is destined to be the head of one falls in love with the beautiful Creole daughter of the other.

The New York Tribune says: "There is a full measure of Cable's old-time charm of Creole temperament and speech. It is a winning tale of beauty and sympathetic appeal to the heart."

On Furlough

By FLORENCE OLME-STEARNS.

The hero of this romance is Lieutenant Wrexham of the Irish Guards. Invalided to America, he met the charming Molly in this little Southern community where the story is placed. This love affair between an American Southern girl and the handsome, irresponsible young officer is cleverly woven with another and less violent affair to form a novel of constant and contrasted incident and mood which charms and touches the reader.

A Runaway Woman

By LOUIS DODGE.

Captain Rupert Hughes says: "This book seized and held me with an extraordinary fascination. While it is as tantalizing and compelling as a well-constructed story ought to be, it has also a simplicity and dignity that give it an element of nobility.

"It is as convincingly real as Robinson Crusoe. The principal character is not a castaway sailor, but a commonplace woman who runs away from sordid conditions and learns what romance actually is when encountered in the actual world. Mr. Dodge has made a contribution of high value to American literature. If he had a foreign name or described a foreign scene he would be hailed as the creator of a masterpiece."

Elsie Marley, Honey

By JOSLYN GRAY.

Most amusing complications arose from the coincidence that Elsie Marley and Elsie Moss chanced to meet on their journey from the Pacific coast to live with unknown relatives in the East; the staid Elsie Marley dreaded her future in noisy New York with a journalistic aunt; the vivacious Elsie Moss, ambitious for the stage, dreaded life in the quiet of a rural rectory—it was her restless imagination that suggested swapping destinations, and she carried her point.

SIX YEARS OF EXPLORATION IN COLOMBIA,
VENEZUELA, BRITISH GUIANA, PERU, BOLIVIA,
ARGENTINA, PARAGUAY, AND BRAZIL.

By LEO E. MILLER

of the American Museum of Natural History,
First Lieutenant in the United States Aviation Corps.

This volume represents a series of almost continuous explorations hardly ever paralleled in the huge areas traversed. It is a wonderfully informative, impressive, and often thrilling narrative in which savage peoples and all but unknown animals largely figure, which forms an infinitely readable book and one of rare value for geographers, naturalists, and other scientific men. With 48 full-page illustrations and with maps. About $4.50 net.

Byways in Southern Tuscany

By KATHARINE HOOKER

In this book Mrs. Hooker confines herself to southern Tuscany and largely to the comparatively unknown country known as the Maremma. Every foot of Tuscan soil is redolent of memories, and Mrs. Hooker not only gives us charming notes of travel and enlightens us as to contemporary conditions, but rehearses for us a centuries-long historic drama of fascinating thought often tragic detail. She is herself saturated with the history of the Peninsula and retells this chapter of it with the charm peculiar to what is done con amore. Illustrated, $3.50 net.

Scribner War BooksWhat We Must Know to Win the War

By ANDRE CHERADAME

M. André Chéradame, whose books have been among the chief instruments in awakening this country to a realization of German aims and the possible consequences of the war, now makes a remarkable suggestion toward ending it. The plan of promoting, both by propaganda and by physical means, a great simultaneous uprising of the 60,000,000 people who are held subject against their will to the German powers may seem a conception too vast to be worked out practically. In this book M. Chéradame shows, with the same cogent reasoning and mastery of detail that distinguish his other books, that it is a project so practicable that if the conditions were reversed our enemies would have made use of it long ago.

Present-Day WarfareHow An Army Trains and FightsBy CAPTAIN JACQUES ROUVIER of the French Military Mission to the United States.

Captain Rouvier has been remarkably successful in making plain the intricacies of warfare to-day to the lay mind, so that while this book will be of great value to any man who has recently entered or is about to enter the service, it will be invaluable to any parent, friend, or relative of a boy in any branch of the service who wishes to have a real conception of the nature and the importance of his work in relation to the war.

The People of Action
A Study in American Idealism

By GUSTAVE RODRIGUES

With an Introduction by J. MARK BALDWIN.
Translated by LOUISE SEYMOUR HOUGHTON.

An extraordinarily penetrating, sympathetic, and wise study of ourselves and our institutions, our dearest hopes, our mistakes, our worth as a nation, and our character as individuals, made by a Frenchman. He finds us profound idealists, but different from others in that action is our national medium for realizing our ideals. His story is divided into several parts, of which the first briefly reviews American history in order that the elements which have gone into our making as a nation may be understood.

By CAPTAIN H. D. TROUNCE

The first story of mining and sapping—the most important and most dangerous activities of the whole war. Captain Trounce was formerly with the Royal British Engineers, but since July, 1917, has been with the American Engineers.

He writes of this strange form of warfare under, sometimes far under, the trenches and No Man's Land with great clarity and vividness, describing the construction of galleries and mines, underground fights, explosions about Neuville, St. Vaast, in Flanders, near Arras, under the Vimy Ridge, etc. He deals with the most thrilling subject, hitherto untouched by war writers, in a way which is no less informative because untechnical.

"GENE STRATTON-PORTER'S BEST"

The Biggest Seller of 1918

What the "New York Sun" says about it:—

Not because it will sell 500,000 copies—it will!—and not because it is by Gene Stratton-Porter do we give over the front page to-day to A DAUGHTER OF THE LAND; but because on her fiftieth birthday, August 17th, there was published this seventh of Mrs. Porter's novels, her biggest, her best. The seventh child is lucky, but this seventh novel-child is more than lucky, it is blessed with greatness. A DAUGHTER OF THE LAND is as near the great American novel as we shall get in this generation, and we wish to emphasize both adjectives. It is as great as it is American and it is American through and through.

The absolute sincerity of Gene Stratton-Porter, her honesty, her unspoiled and fresh look upon life, are what have taken her into the clean and decent hearts of the hundreds of thousands who do not persuade themselves that they like a thing because it has "literary values," but who know they like a book because it has life's values.

There is no more plot in her book than there is in a human life; there is just as much but no more. Who wants a plot when there is human love and human sorrow, jealousy, envy, malice, pure joy, bravery, deep and enduring satisfaction, regret, motherhood, to be reckoned with?

Kate Bates was a big woman—big all through; so big she made mistakes and faced the consequences and lived right on.

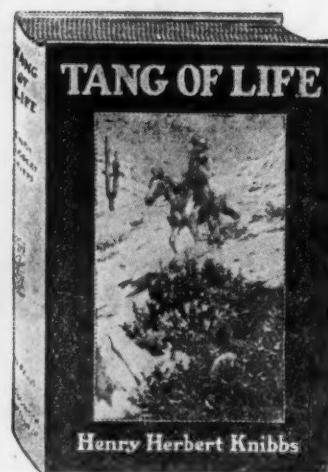

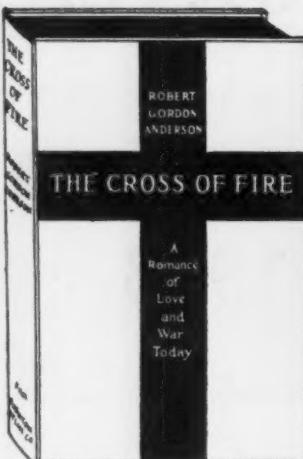

Remember, if you will, that it is the sons of these people, these brave and blunt women like Kate Bates, who hold the line in France to-day! These are the boys who can see life clearly and see it whole. These are the youths who can grip a bayonet and go forward with a mighty cheer and cry because they know that there is a Right in the world and a Wrong in the world and that they are to give their lives if need be to serve the Right. And back home, on the Indiana farms, on the New York farms, on the New England farms, on the California ranches and on Southern plantations, are their mothers, the Kate Bateses, the tall, fine looking, strong and healthy women who can husk corn in the fields and cook without wheat in the kitchens, who can work, fight and pray in one breath. These are the boys and these the mothers that Gene Stratton-Porter, an American novelist, writes about.

More than 7,000,000 of Mrs. Porter's books sold.

Ten tales of bird life for children, by the Secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies. Illustrated by Charles Livingston Bull. Net, $1.00. Published August 17.

TALES FROM BIRDLAND

HENRY MORGENTHAU

Ex-Ambassador to Turkey has written a dramatic account of Germany's method of gaining absolute control of the Ottoman Empire.

The Book Reveals

How Germany decreed the World War at Potsdam on July 5, 1914. The startling admission of Germany's Ambassador. How Germany's intrigue forced Turkey into the war. How the Anglo-French failed to force the Dardanelles when Constantinople had prepared to yield. The true story of the greatest horror in history—the Armenian massacre. Net, $2.00. Publication date, October 24.

AMBASSADOR MORGENTHAU'S STORY

DUGALD STEWART WALKER

This artist has molded his charming imaginative drawings with stories equally as whimsical and delightful. Many drawings in color and line. Net, $1.50. Published October 24.

DREAM BOATS

"CENTURION"

It is as though a great field officer were giving you intimate glimpses of the work of the fighting men. In these twenty-one tales of the British army and navy there is laughter as well as tears, high courage and cheerful patience. Net, $1.40. Published August 17.

GENTLEMEN AT ARMS

THOMAS B. HARNED

A copy of "Leaves of Grass" first aroused Anne Gilchrist's interest in Whitman and caused her to begin a life-long correspondence with him. These letters have a delightful literary quality and show an inspiring, unselfish affection. Net, $2.00. For publication, October 24.

A BOOK OF GENUINE VALUE

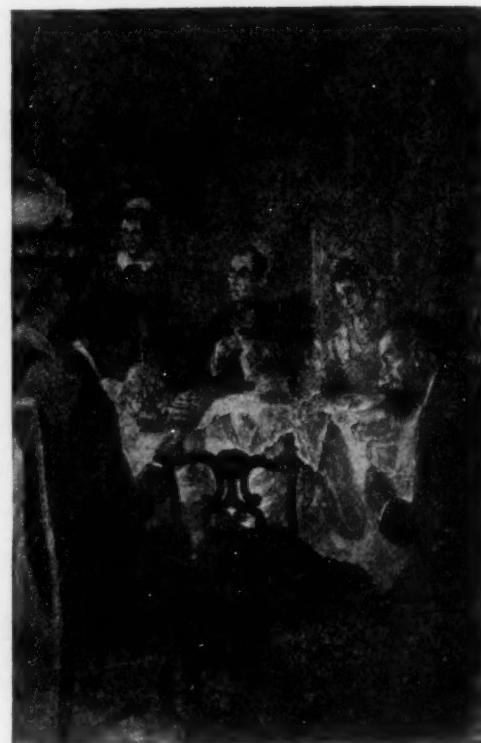

THE BANKER AT THE BOARDING-HOUSE

By MONTGOMERY ROLLINS

Author of "Money and Investments," etc.

Illustrated. $1.50

There has been a great need of a book on every-day finance. Nearly all have some money to invest; many lack experienced advisers. Here a high authority gives valuable advice in a delightful story. After style of the inimitable "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" the reader is taken into a strangely interesting household where the central character is made to tell in brightly conducted conversation the nature and use of money, explain clearly the mysteries of banking and dealing in securities, show the dangers of the stock market, and give wholesome suggestions as to the care and handling of money.

"WHAT IS MONEY, ANYWAY?"

BOOKS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS CARPENTRY AND MECHANICS FOR BOYS

By A. NEELY HALL

With more than 600 photographs and working diagrams by the Author and Norman P. Hall
8vo. $2.00

"Carpentry and Mechanics" has been prepared by Mr. Hall to cover the latest developments in boy activities. Besides instructions for building model airplanes, battleships, submarines, forts, machine-guns, "42-centimeters," drill rifles, periscopes, etc., there are suggestions for various handy garden-accessories, and hundreds of plans for mechanical and electrical toys and gifts, for household contrivances, and for playground and camp equipment, making altogether a volume that will be indispensable to red-blooded American boys.

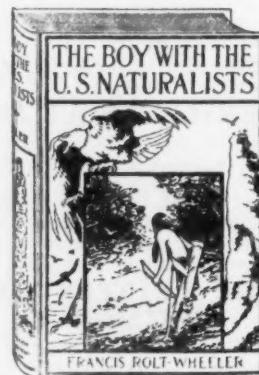

THE BOY WITH THE U. S. NATURALISTS

Tenth Volume of the "U. S. SERVICE SERIES"

By FRANCIS ROLT-WHEELER

Profusely illustrated from photographs loaned by U. S. Government Departments. Large 12mo. Decorated cover, $1.35

Throughout his noted "U. S. Service Series" Dr. Rolt-Wheeler shows the astonishing way in which every detail of nature fits into American progress. In this volume he shows the great value of bird life, demonstrating the dependence upon birds of the entire food supply of our country. The marvels of bird life are incalculable, and now that man is beginning to conquer the air, every flutter of a bird's wing may be of vital importance to aeronautics. Exciting features are supplied by the piracy and adventure that lurk around remote islands in the Pacific, and in the egret swamps of Florida.

"LOOK, TED, THERE GO OUR STRAYS!"

DAVE PORTER UNDER FIRE Or, A Young Army Engineer in France

The New "DAVE PORTER Book."

By EDWARD STRATEMEYER

Illustrated. $1.25

Dave, now a fully qualified civil engineer, is enrolled in the Engineering Corps of the U. S. Army, and wins distinction by being equal to the occasion in the many exciting experiences which fall to his lot. Mr. Stratemeyer has had unusual advantages in securing material for this book.

AMERICA'S DAUGHTER By RENA I. HALSEY

Author of "Blue Robin, the Girl Pioneer"

Illustrated, $1.35

A most timely and patriotic story of girls in a select school in Brooklyn who organize a club called "Daughters of America." One of the girls has been brought up without knowledge of her own family, and so is called "America's Daughter" for the personal qualities, including ardent love of country, that have made her a favorite. An interesting trip to historic places on the coast of Massachusetts furnishes the incidents of the story and gives genuine value.

THE BUTTERFLY HOUSE By EDNA A. BROWN

Illustrated. Decorated Cover. $1.35

Not since this author wrote the FOUR GORDONS has there been a story so successfully combining the interests of a public school with the background of a charming home. It tells how Cary Dexter came to the Butterfly House, so called for a very obvious reason, how Candace Halliday lived in the gray cottage on Thorn Mountain, and how both girls were sophomores in the Ridgefield High School, of which Cary's father was principal.

CHILD SONGS OF CHEER

By EVALEEN STEIN

With illustrations in full colors by Antoinette Inglis. $1.25

No books for children are more charming than the very rare ones of really excellent verses. Miss Stein's little poems have won the approval of scholarly critics, but, better than that, they have made children themselves memorize and repeat them from actual enjoyment. All children and all who love them will be delighted with this handsomely made book of such verses for little people as have been rarely seen since the days of Robert Louis Stevenson.

THE SILVER CACHE OF THE PAWNEE

A Story of the Santa Fé Trail

By D. LANGE

Author of "On the Trail of the Sioux," "The Silver Island of the Chippewa," etc. Illustrated. $1.25.

This is a real adventure story of the old Santa Fé Trail, which ran to Santa Fé from Independence, near Kansas City, across the buffalo country of the Great Plains, about as far as from New York to Chicago. At the time of the story, about 1835, this stretch of prairie was the undisputed territory of the buffalo and the Plains Indians: the powerful and war-like Pawnees, Comanches, Arapahoes, Cheyennes, Kiowas, and Sioux.

BOOKS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

HALE MERRILL'S HONEY QUEST

How One Girl Made the Best of Things

By ANNIE ELIZABETH HARRIS

Illustrated. $1.35

Hale Merrill, a girl of fourteen, suddenly finds her city home broken up and is thrust into a public school in a country village, a violent change in her self-centered and unevenly-developed life under the care of an adored governess. But a very gentle and wise grandmother shows her how to draw a lesson from the bee and seek the honey of her new situation. So well does Hale do this that her quest soon ceases to be a conscious one, but she continues to find the honey of life in unexpected places. A truly great juvenile.

ANNE ELIZABETH HARRIS

HINDU FAIRY TALES Retold for Children

By FLORENCE GRISWOLD

Illustrated from photographs and with frontispiece in colors and pen-and-inks, by L. J. Bridgman. $1.25

Hindu folk stories have been unknown to American children because no one of sufficient scholarship to understand them fully has taken the pains to present them in a form to be enjoyed by young readers. They are of men and animals, both serious and humorous, with always the logical and right ending which must be true of folk stories to cause their survival through so many generations of tradition. Kindness, justice, and generosity are constantly emphasized. Mrs. Griswold has added something actually new to the always limited number of really high-grade books for children.

WHAT-HAPPENED-THEN STORIES

By RUTH O. DYER

Author of "Sleepy-Time Story Book," and "That's Why Stories." With fifteen illustrations and jacket in full colors by F. Liley Young. $1.25

An author of very popular books, trained in the psychology of childhood and the story-telling art, has taken fifteen of the standard tales of childhood like "Little Red Riding-Hood," "Chicken Little," "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," "The Three Pigs," and others, and fitted each with a happy ending. The original story is told first, followed by the delightful sequel. In other words, the natural query in a child's mind, often a grieved one, is answered by learning "what happened then."

TOGGLERS An Outdoor Boy

By FREDERICK F. HALL

Illustrated by Charles Copeland. $1.25

The child who knows God's outdoors from actual living in it will find his understanding of it deepened and his love for it increased by reading this book; the little shut-in will find it one of the consoling substitutes for winds, woods, and sunshine.

DOROTHY DAINTY AT FOAM RIDGE

By AMY BROOKS

The new "DOROTHY DAINTY Book"

Illustrated by the Author. $1.00

In this story all are at a fine beach hotel where gayety abounds. New characters, some of them among the best yet, add variety, and there is action throughout. As one young reader wrote to the author: "You can't miss a page, because something is sure to have happened on it."

TWO WONDERFUL WAR BOOKS

A DOUBLE CHANCE FOR THE DEALER

Will Go Equally Well As an Adult "War Book" or Juvenile, And Sell at Sight Anywhere.

THE WONDER OF WAR ON LAND

By FRANCIS ROLT-WHEELER

Author of "The Wonder of War in the Air," "The U. S. Service Series," etc. With many illustrations from unusual war photographs and sketches.

Large 12mo. $1.35.

This book is American through and through. Thrown into story form, it tells the adventures of a young American who was caught in the backward sweep of the Retreat to the Marne, and served in the ragged legion which saved Paris. The strategy and counter-strategy of this retreat are so clearly told that the reader can see the armies debouch before his eyes. No clearer account of modern gunnery has ever been written.

Going Better than Ever is the Same Author's Great Previous Book

THE WONDER OF WAR IN THE AIR

With forty-two illustrations from unusual war photographs and sketches.

Large 12mo. $1.35.

A story combining the fascination in the perilous excitement of flying and the thrill of modern war. One sees the bombardment machine, the aeroplane for directing artillery fire, the scout, and the fighter of the air, at work in their several fields. The hero of the book, trained in the French Flying Corps, is taught every detail necessary in that new world of warfare—the battleground of the skies. He witnesses some of the most historic raids of the war, and takes a share in the destruction of one of the newest aerial monsters. Taken a prisoner by the enemy, the young aviator's escape (based on an actual incident from the front) is daring in the extreme. As the Literary Digest says: "It is packed with information that comes step by step, and with the spice that allures to mastery of details given."

ASHTON-KIRK, CRIMINOLOGIST

By JOHN T. McINTYRE.

Who held the old-fashioned brass candlestick that struck down "The Bounder?" Was it the young artist or the girl in the invalid's chair? Who left the mortar tracks on the cellar grating? Who dropped a loaded pistol near the hedge? Who wore the dainty shoe, the print of which was found near the rose-arbor in Stanwick? Big, good-natured Bat Scanlon had his guess, the police had another, and yet it remained for Ashton-Kirk, with Scanlon's aid, to supply the answer that pierced the cloud of mystery hanging over the house in the suburbs. Books by Robert Shackleton

THE BOOK OF PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA of the present, set in her environment of charm and history, Mr. Shackleton shows us. In the intimate anecdotal style for which he is famous he introduces the people of the old city and their ways, their traits, their ideals. With us he explores forgotten nooks, and finds such treasures as an ancient church completely hidden away, and an inn-yard that might have welcomed Mr. Pickwick himself. Famous folk appear as living beings in these pages, and the very soul of the city seems laid open as we read. It is a book that makes you fairly long to see for yourself what Mr. Shackleton has so fascinatingly described. Drawings by Herbert Pullinger, and many photographs. Frontispiece in color. Boxed. Price, $2.50 net.

THE CHARM OF THE ANTIQUE

One need not visit Europe for old things to admire. That there is a charm in the pursuit of the antique near home is made fascinatingly clear in this beautiful volume of Mr. and Mrs. Shackleton. There is all the zest of personal adventure, as with them one follows the trail of a desired Chippendale chair, or runs down some rare old claw-foot secretary, or joint-stool, or gathers from shadowy garrets treasures of copper lustre, Sheffield plate or ponderous pewter. Richly illustrated with photographs. Boxed. Price, $2.50, net.

THE BOOK OF NEW YORK

Few indeed are they who really know New York. How many residents could locate the oldest house in Manhattan or Brooklyn, or say where West 4th Street crosses West 11th, or tell you the shortest route to Fraunces Tavern or The Little Church Around the Corner? The fact is, there is not one New York, but a hundred, each of immense interest and importance. Mr. Shackleton has found all of them, and describes them here with a wealth of information and genial anecdote. Illustrated. Boxed. Price, $2.50, net.

THE BOOK OF BOSTON

New Holiday Edition

A most delightful picture of Boston and her people, written with the most charming intimacy. Nothing is too big or too small for Mr. Shackleton to chronicle—he sees the kind of bag Bostonians carry and the kind of culture that is their distinction. A book that will last a long time. Illustrated. Boxed. Price, $2.50, net.

TOURING GREAT BRITAIN

This is the record of an actual trip made by motor in England, Scotland and Wales. Mr. Shackleton has the keenest possible eye for beauty, for quaint interest, and for the things of practical use to travellers. Whether you intend to travel by steam, or by gasoline, or to make a stay-at-home journey, this readable book will be invaluable. Illustrated. Boxed. Price, $2.50, net.

UNVISITED PLACES OF OLD EUROPE

New Edition

Describes delightfully localities off the beaten track of the tourist—The Forest of Arden, Luxembourg, Neutral Moresnet, Lichtenstein, the sleepy Brenta, and many others. The book is full of personal reminiscence and humor. Illustrated with photographs and drawings. Boxed. Price, $2.50, net.

New Popular HandbooksCHECKERS By DAVID A. MITCHELL

To become a successful checker player one must get the habit of right moves. What these are a well-known expert explains here, showing the student all the standard openings, positions, moves and traps, and illustrating everything with diagrams. Many games and problems are given with helpful comments. Price, 50 cents, net.

WHAT TO TELL YOUR BOY By JOHN RAINSFORD

Your boy should learn from a reliable source about the facts of life. This book tells how to instruct a child naturally and scientifically, how to answer embarrassing questions, and how to guide and warn the growing boy. Price, 50 cents, net.

Recitation and Entertainment BooksPATRIOTIC PIECES FROM THE GREAT WAR

Compiled by EDNA D. JONES

The patriotic fervor that has inspired and united America as never before in our generation finds expression in this book of recitations and readings dealing with the present war. No one can read the book and not be the better for it—a better citizen of America and of the new brotherhood of allied nations. As an aid in the preparation of a patriotic program in school, church, club, or lodge, the book is invaluable. There are over one hundred selections, a piece in prose or poetry for any sort of a modern occasion. Price, paper, 35 cents; cloth binding, $1.00.

BOY SCOUT ENTERTAINMENTS By LIEUT. CLIFTON LISLE, U. S. A.

Four plays dealing with outdoor sports, etc., a Daniel Boone Pageant, and a Semaphore Flag Drill, etc., all for boys, and especially useful for Scouts. A preliminary chapter tells how to arrange a successful entertainment program. Price, paper, 35 cents; cloth binding, 60 cents.

Patriotic Plays and EntertainmentsFOR THE OLD FLAG By ARTHUR LEWIS TUBBS

A rural war comedy in three acts. Only one scene, a simple interior. Five male and five female characters. Philip Randall robs his brother Tom of the chance to fight for the old flag, but Tom wins his place, and the one girl. Many good parts, and a sure success. Price, 25 cents.

WITH THE STARS AND STRIPES IN FRANCE By FRANK DUMONT

A melodrama in three acts. Eight male and three female characters. Sam Reed, a sturdy young American in a munition factory, finds German spies at work and downs them at the front. An exciting play, and not difficult. Price, 25 cents.

FIRST AID By HELEN BAGG

A war comedy in one act. Scene in France. Three male and three female characters. Very easy to produce, and cheery throughout. Henri Martin, a wounded French soldier, reunites two pair of lovers. Price, 15 cents.

BEHIND THE LINES By HELEN BAGG

A comedy of American life in war time in one act. Ten characters, all female, and several of them very funny. A group of Red Cross workers adopt a "godson" at the front, and are surprised at the result. Price, 15 cents.

HER SERVICE FLAG By HELEN SHERMAN GRIFFITH

A comedy, in one act, with four female characters. Mrs. Reynolds, who wishes she had a son at the front, buys a service flag anyway—and then finds she has a right to it. Price, 15 cents.

A RED CROSS DRILL By NANCY S. HALLOWELL

For sixteen or more persons, this drill is especially recommended for Girl and Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, etc. No elaborate costumes. It makes a strong patriotic appeal. Price, 15 cents.

A SEMAPHORE FLAG DRILL By NANCY S. HALLOWELL

For Girl or Boy Scouts or school children. The "Salute to the Flag" given in U. S. Army semaphore code. Beautiful and striking. Price, 15 cents.

These new books and plays may be purchased at any bookstore, or they will be sent prepaid to any address upon the receipt of price.

JOHN LANE COMPANY - Publishers - NEW YORK

To-day, Mr. Bookseller

It is more necessary than ever before that you examine the selling possibilities of the books you display on your counters.

We offer the six new titles listed below in the firm conviction that each and every one of them will sell—and sell big. After each title, we give you our reason for thinking so.

Blue Stars and Gold

By William E. Barton, D.D., LL.D.

A Book for Every Home That Flies a Service Flag. A series of heart-to-heart talks to the fathers, mothers, sisters, sweethearts and wives of the men at the front. A book of inspiration and comfort by a man who has four sons in the service, and whose heart is deeply concerned in the present issues. Cloth; 12mo; $1.00 net.

Abraham Lincoln as a Man of Letters

By Luther Emerson Robinson, M.A.

The only literary study of the life and work of the "Great Emancipator." A book that should be in the library of every Lincoln admirer, and of every college, high-school and public library in the country. Cloth; 12mo; illustrated; $1.25 net.

Think

A Book for To-day

Another Message From the Author of "Pep"

Just like Pep—full of snap and go. In his vigorous, epigrammatic style, Colonel Hunter gives some golden and timely advice on the subject of thinking. Eight large editions of Pep have been sold. "Think" will be a sure-fire success. Cloth; narrow 12mo; $1.00 net.

Diet and Health

With Key to the Calories

By Lulu Hunt Peters, A.B., M.D.

A Big Little Book—scientific, yet bristling with humor and cleverness. It tells you how to reduce—how to build up—without wrecking your pocketbook or undergoing martyrdom. The program laid down is for the purse of the average individual—not for gilded profiteers. A timely book that will achieve wide popularity. Cloth; uniquely illustrated; $1.00 net.

Billy and the Major

A sequel to "Miss Minerva and William Green Hill"

By Emma Speed Sampson

Over a quarter of a million copies of Miss Minerva have been sold. Billy and the Major starts out where "Miss Minerva" leaves off. There is the same delightful humor in it that made the earlier book so universal a favorite.

Cloth; 12mo; 20 clever illustrations; $1.00 net.

Seaman Si

The Humor of the Navy in Cartoons

By Perce Pearce, U. S. N. R. F.

Are you fed up on Army humor? Then try the Navy! Now, for the first time, the Navy comes into its own. Sailor-Cartoonist Pearce has drawn a series of rollicking cartoons depicting the adventures of a Bluejacket on the High Seas of Fun and Trouble. Land-lubbers and sea-dogs will fall for "Seaman Si" on sight. Boards; 50c. net.

Six Big Books from Reilly & Britton's Fall List

Notably Successful Books from Our 1918 Spring List

Gunner Depew. By Himself.

The unique war career of an American Sailor Boy—told by himself in the colloquial, colorful language of the sea.

J. B. Kerfoot says in Life: "Gunner Depew gives us the first-hand story of the hell-on-earth that an American boy lived through by some miracle while confined in German prison camps. His amazing story, told in the vernacular with inimitable verve, is interesting from cover to cover."

Cloth; Maps and Illustrations; $1.50 net.

The Blond Beast. By Robert Ames Bennet.

A Romance of Love and War—a story that is vibrant with a fine, outstanding Americanism. "A thrilling tale of brave American manhood and loyal love. . . . We commend The Blond Beast as a spirited and fascinating romance."—New York Tribune.

"The book is war itself. From every page seep the wonders and terrors of modern warfare."

—New York Sun.

Cloth; 416-pg.; $1.50 net.

Over Here. By Edgar A. Guest.

War Time Rhymes that reflect the love and loyalty of the folks at home.

"These are songs of home as inspiring as shouts of victory afar. . . . They faithfully reflect the loyal, devoted spirit of the time."—Philadelphia North American.

"Your heart will be stirred, your spirit renewed by reading these war-time poems that so finely exemplify the spirit that should prevail in our hearts over here."—Detroit Saturday Night.

Cloth; $1.25 net

The Year's Big Book for Children

The Tin Woodman of Oz. By the Author of all the Oz Books.

The Tin Woodman of Oz is selling better than any previous Oz book.

Cloth; over 100 illustrations; price, $1.50

Let's Write A Story. By Harry and Louise Armstrong.

A child book that is off the beaten track. Fifteen favorite stories are told in pictures. Just enough of each story is printed to start the little writer off. The child takes his cue from the pictures and writes his own story in the book. A book that will appeal to modern mothers.

Beautifully designed and printed; size 9 x 11½; price, $1.50

Juvenile Best-Sellers

The Camp Fire Girls at Driftwood Heights. By Margaret Love Sanderson.

The fifth volume of The Camp Fire Girls Series. The story of a group of Camp Fire Girls who meet with some thrilling adventures in the pine woods of northern Minnesota.

Cloth; standard novel size; 75c. net.

Mary Louise and the Liberty Girls. By Edith Van Dyne.

The fourth volume of The Mary Louise Series. The story of how Mary Louise and her chums "did their bit" for our country and our soldier boys.

Cloth; standard novel size; 75c. net.

The Boy Scouts of the Air on the French Front. By Gordon Stuart.

The tenth volume of The Boy Scouts of the Air Series. Two lively boys visit the fighting front in France, and become full-fledged aviators with General Pershing's forces.

NOW READY FOR DELIVERY

Hurlbut's Story of the Christian Church

By REV. JESSE LYMAN HURLBUT, D.D.

250 pages. 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. $1.00 net.

In this handbook, the spirit of the church, the stream of its tendency, the causes leading to historic events, and the events flowing from them, have been made the center of interest. It has been sought to give in the book a smooth narrative, unbroken by topic heads, so that it may be read continuously as an interesting story. Outlines and references have also been arranged upon the margin, so that it can also be used as a text-book for students, either as individuals or in classes. At the end of the book will be found a blackboard outline and review questions, covering each chapter. The outlines can be used by the reader who desires to follow it, but it is not thrust upon him. The author has sought to supply a book accurate in all its statements and, at the same time, in a style interesting and attractive to the general reader.

THE BOOK IS MORE A HUMAN DOCUMENT THAN JUST A WAR BOOK.—New York Tribune.

NEW YORK SUN: "Will send the red blood tingling through the veins of every American boy who can lay hold of the book."

PHILADELPHIA NORTH AMERICAN: "This story will loom larger as the War horizon broadens and recedes."

CHICAGO EVENING POST: "A thoroly American book."

DETROIT FREE PRESS: "It is to the full as interestingly fresh and spontaneous as any War story that has come our way."

SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN: "Will please the folks at home."

PORTLAND OREGONIAN: "Permeated with sturdy American spirit—deserves a multitude of readers."

"The First Shot for Liberty"

By CORPORAL OSBORNE DE VARILA

From Pershing's first Expeditionary Force, this American lad, who fired the first shot of the American Army, tells with many thrills and with frequent flashes of humor, the story of the first American to reach the firing line and the experiences that other of our boys may expect to find.

THE AUTOMOBILE BLUE BOOKS are known by motorists from Coast to Coast and bought by them, in largely increasing numbers, from year to year. They answer every touring question, both before the start and on the road. They tell the motorist—simply and clearly—how to reach any place that can be reached by automobile, where to stop, where to eat, where to get gasoline or repairs, what to see, traffic regulations, speed laws, ferry and steamship schedules—every bit of information that motorists want and should have to make their tours a success.

All 1919 Volumes will be right up-to-the-minute. Ten Blue Book Scout Cars are constantly on the road, charting new roads and re-charting the old. Over 150,000 miles of roads—equal to the distance six times around the earth—will have been charted by Blue Book Scout Cars for the 1919 Blue Books.

Each volume averages about 1000 pages, printed on India paper, with hundreds of maps and illustrations. Bound in "Royal Blue" limp binding, stamped in gold. Each book is packed in individual carton.

Make an extra 5% profit
by ordering Volumes 6 and 8

Vol. 6—before October 1

Vol. 8—before November 1

Knowing how many to print of each volume is a vexing question, especially in these times of high costs.

As a business proposition, help us to solve it and we will share with you the saving we make in printing a large quantity at one time.

By ordering before press dates we offer you an extra, additional 5% discount. That means a saving of 11 1/4c. or 10c. on every copy—an added profit to you. Here is the table of 1919 discounts, both before and after final dates of our special offer:

A CONSISTENT, SURE SELLER EVERY YEAR

354,923 automobile owners registered their cars up to June 1, 1918, in territory covered by the 1919 Volume 8. On the same date 352,151 registered in territory covered by the 1919 Volume 6.

Here is a potential market—of people with money—who, the book trade claims, do not patronize bookstores. But, they do buy books. They buy the AUTOMOBILE BLUE Book and they will buy other books if you can get them into your store where they will see them.

Get more business for yourself—and help the book trade as a whole—by doing your share in getting automobile owners back into the “book buying” habit. A vigorous campaign on AUTOMOBILE BLUE Books will go a long way towards it, besides bringing you good, immediate profit on BLUE Books in addition to profits on other books which you are bound to sell.

What is the German Nation Dying For?

By KARL LUDWIG KRAUSE

In this book a great German publicist, "at the peril of my life," as he writes from Switzerland where the sensational book first appeared, denounces and lays bare the impossible and false psychology of the entire Kaiser-ridden, hatred-fed, duped and dying German nation. This book will be quoted wherever the war is discussed—in Congress, press and pulpit.

Three Books on Reconstruction

The Great Change: The New America after the War

By CHARLES W. WOOD

The picture presented in this book of the New America that is emerging out of the present war, is based on the statements made by men and women at the head of American Government and Industries, and by leaders of American thought, such as Frank P. Walsh, Secretary Franklin K. Lane, Professor John Dewey, A. W. Shaw, Felix Frankfurter, etc.

British Labor and the War

By PAUL U. KELLOGG and ARTHUR GLEASON

This book, by the editor of The Survey Magazine and by Mr. Gleason, who has just returned from England, where he was present at the most recent labor conference, gives the fullest account that has yet appeared of the war aims of British Labor, and the determination of the British workers to be the dominating factor in their country in economic, social and political adjustment after the war. This book is the most authoritative work on this subject that has yet appeared.

Americanized Socialism: A Yankee View of Capitalism

By JAMES MACKAYE

Many persons who do not suspect themselves to be Socialists will, when they read this grippingly interesting book, discover that they are. This book shows that Socialism is a true American ideal and that with the entrance of this country into a war for democracy, these old American ideas and principles are reinstating themselves.

Hammond's Important

HAMMOND'S Five Mile Maps of the Western Front

Large Scale—Large Lettering—The maps in this series show the Western Front on the unusually large scale of five miles to the inch.

Effective Coloring—The varying land elevation ranging from below sea level to 1,200 meters, are shown by means of 14 different colors. Contours are shown and lettered at intervals of 100 meters. Heights of land are given in both feet and meters. The farthest German advances and the present battle lines are indicated in red. The maps are divided into five-mile squares by red lines for convenience and speed in determining distances.

Completeness of Details—These maps plainly show all cities, towns and the smallest villages, railways, canals, principal highways; forts and redoubts, fortresses and fortified towns; aircraft depots and wireless stations.

Areas covered by the three maps.

No. 1. North Sea to La Fere.

No. 2. La Fere to Verdun.

No. 3. Verdun to Colmar.

Each map measures 25x21 inches.

Price, of each of the three maps printed on bond paper, folded in cover, $.50

Price of each of the three maps printed on map cloth, folded in cover, $1.25.

HAMMOND'S Business Atlas of Economic Geography

Vitally important to the Business Executive and Student of Business

Alive with concrete illustrations that forcibly bring out the important economic conditions of the day. This book is unique. It is interesting.

Its maps embrace all sides of physical and economic geography. Double page maps show relief of land, summer climate, winter climate, temperature, natural vegetation, mineral products, agricultural products, density of population, languages and political divisions.

This collection of maps supplements every other atlas made—no fear of duplicating maps to be found in any other book.

Size, 9½ x 7½ inches—80 pages. Bound in flexible cloth, $1.50. Ready October 1st.

THE BOOK Private Peat THE PHOTO PLAY

This, with the popularity of Private Peat on the lecture platform, makes the above the most significant announcement, with the possible exception of MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY, in the history of the book and dramatic world.

BOOK and picture are like a letter to the folks at home—like a message to every mother, father, sister, brother and sweetheart from the boys “over there.” As one critic said, “The only things missing are the kiss crosses.”

He doesn't push his bayonet through you to make you realize the horrors of war, but he does give you a taste of the coal oil tea. He doesn't pose around as a “hero,” he pulls no heroics, nothing adorns his chest but his shirt buttons. He doesn't pretend to enjoy the trenches, but he takes his mud like a man—and writes another chapter.

MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY

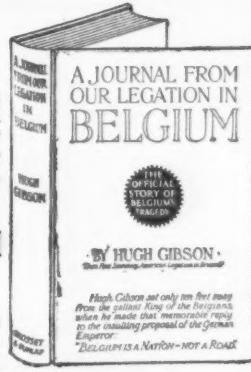

By JAMES W. GERARD

Every day the revelations and prophesies contained in this great book are being realized removes MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY from the class of "seasonable war books." It is a book for all time, and long after the war is over it will stand as the most authentic and most dramatic chronicle of these great times.

A JOURNAL FROM OUR LEGATION IN BELGIUM

By HUGH GIBSON

First Secretary, American Legation in Brussels. Mr. Gibson heard King Albert make that famous speech in reply to Germany's insulting demands—sitting not ten feet away: "Belgium is a nation—not a road." The official story of Belgium's tragedy.

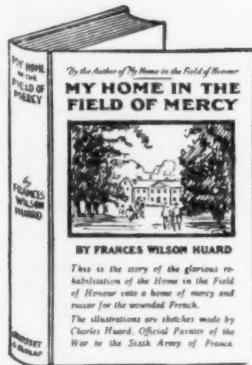

GERMANY AT BAY

By MAJOR HALDANE MACFALL

"There is no time to be lost if Britain and America are to awake to the appalling danger that lies ahead in the making of Peace. To the American in particular the danger is as hideous as it is secret and sinister."

MY HOME IN THE FIELD OF MERCY

By FRANCES WILSON HUARD

Mme. Huard here continues the story told in MY HOME IN THE FIELD OF HONOUR describing the transformation of the Chateau de Villiers into "Annex No. 7," a hospital for French wounded. We are told how they were taken care of, healed, amused, humored, and set to work according to their capacity, all of which is breathlessly interesting.

MY HOME IN THE FIELD OF HONOUR By FRANCES WILSON HUARD

A remarkable story, told from the standpoint of the woman left behind. The Huard's beautiful home beyond the Marne was in the path of the German drive and eventually became the headquarters of General Von Kluck and his staff.

ALL IN IT: K 1 CARRIES ON

By MAJOR IAN HAY

The sequel to THE FIRST HUNDRED THOUSAND, and even more popular than that stirring book, for now we are "in it," too. The "kitties" whom we left at the Battle of Loos have indeed "carried on" in this book accompanied by "Coughing Clara," their new anti-aircraft gun.

GALLIPOLI

By JOHN MASEFIELD

The breathless recital of that "great human effort which came, more than once, very near to triumph, achieved the impossible many times, and failed in the end as many great deeds of arms have failed from something which had nothing to do with arms, nor with the men who bore them."

"FIREBRAND" TREVISION

By

CHARLES ALDEN SELTZER

A gripping virile story of the tempestuous days of transition from the Old to the New West, by the author of "The Vengeance of Jefferson Gawne", "The Boss of the Lazy Y", "The Range Boss", etc.

The coming of the railroad marked an epoch; the two thin, thread-like lines of steel were tentacles reaching out to bind the wild open unfenced West of "Firebrand" Trevison into a stuffy crowded community of little farmers and prosperous shopkeepers. But Trevison did not grow bitter at the encroachment, for it brought with it Rosalind Benham, daughter of the president of the railroad. And also it brought a man to hate. The account of the clash between the unscrupulous overbearing confidence of the Easterner and the cold indomitable will of "Firebrand" makes a novel that will not be laid down until the last page is finished.

leading books

Here's a matchless trio of story-tellers: Edgar Rice Burroughs, whose Tarzan yarns carried the world by storm. Cyrus Townsend Brady the incomparable and Charles Alden Seltzer, premier writer of stories of the Old West.

The Gods of Mars
by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

The story of the strange adventures of an American on Mars. Readers of the Tarzan books should not miss this thrilling story.

Illustrated, $1.35.

Waif-o-the-Sea
CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY

The Sharon is homeward bound from the South Pacific, aboard, a beautiful girl dressed as a boy. There come mutinies and sea-fights. She faces them with the brave young skipper. The sea runs high in this yarn, with its tremendous pull on American hearts.

Illustrated, $1.40.

Firebrand Trevison
CHARLES ALDEN SELTZER

The West is still with us, for out of it are coming thousands of clear-eyed soldiers with deadly aim. In Firebrand Trevison we have the progenitors with their fascinating background of gun-play. The railroad comes through, and Firebrand has a new thing to fight—and a girl to win. Illustrated, $1.40.

How to Read Poetry
ETHEL COLSON

A book on poetry that is as readable as a newspaper, by a newspaper writer. She wants to show the fun of poetry, and how it is the strong man's best friend, the surest outlet for his suppressed emotions. She takes all kinds from Chaucer to Vachel Lindsay. $1.25.

McClurg's 1918

Quality not quantity was our aim in selecting the titles for our Fall list. All the books on this and the opposite page are unusually interesting and exceptionally meritorious.

"Back from Hell"

by SAMUEL CRANSTON BENSON

Is the story of a glorified fighting preacher who went to war an avowed pacifist, but changed his views when he saw the atrocities committed by the Huns.—Illustrated. $1.30.

Wolves of the Sea

RANDALL PARRISH

The sea, turbulent and treacherous, hiding the black hates and plunders of Sanchez the pirate, an English gentleman bound to slavery in Virginia tobacco fields, a lovely woman to succor him, this—with all the charm of a Parrish tale. Illustrated, $1.40.

The Treasure Trail

MARAH ELLIS RYAN

The bird call of a girl in a hut, the dust of Mexico, sullen and faithless, flying along the gold of a treasure trail. When K. Rhodes gallops down the trail to the song of the "lark-girl" he swings the reader along with him into the heart of German plottings.

Illustrated, $1.50.

Tommy of the Voices

REYNOLDS KNIGHT

Rich with the fighting romance of the breaker and bridger of soil. There is Tommy the dreamer who hears voices, some that call out his own ego and some that call to a sturdy Americanism, and to Fanny, the "sure voice." It is a strong book with roots in every thinking man's heart. $1.40.

Books You Should Carry in Stock

August 16th, 1918.

My dear Mr. Overton:

I have received Divine's book, and I am really pleased with it. I am glad the young fellow is in France. I wish you would thank him for me when you write him. The poems have ~~an~~ ^{an} uncommon quality. I particularly liked the one "To the Dough-Boys" - perhaps because two of my sons are dough-toys. He puts the whole truth for us who stay at home, when he speaks of the girl who says of her lover that the only thing she would mind more than having him not return, is to have had him fail to go over.

Faithfully yours,

Theodore Roosevelt

Mr. Grant M. Overton, Editor,

GUYNEMER, THE ACE OF ACES, was published on August 27th. It is now in a third edition. Jacques Mortane, Guynemer's chosen biographer, is the author. Here is the story of a hero who, stricken with tuberculosis, sought admission to the French fighting forces five times before he was accepted to become the greatest hero of winged warfare. $1.50 net.

In this discussion of the State and the Church, and the place of war in the life of man, the author has avoided the technical aspects of each, concentrating directly on the main problems which disturb the Christian conscience as it struggles to live in a darkened world.

Observations in France and the War

FRED B. SMITH

Paper Boards, 75c. net

A simple statement of vivid impressions; impressions of things seen and heard, people met and meetings participated in at over eighty different military centers from the seaports to the front trenches, to the battle lines and back to the rest camps. Special attention is given to the question of the morale and morality of the American Expeditionary Force.

What Has God To Do With This War?

E. ALBERT COOK

Paper, 25c. net

A discussion of the underlying principles of this war, in which the author attempts to show that this war is not the DESTROYER but the CREATOR of faith.

What Kind of a Fight Are We In?

ERNEST R. GROVES

Paper, 25c. net

American idealism in defense of which we went in, is set against the background of the German adaptation of the Darwinian theory. Then follow timely discussions of "Christianity and the War" and "Religion and the Future."

The Right to Fight

G. SHERWOOD EDDY

Paper Boards, 75c. net

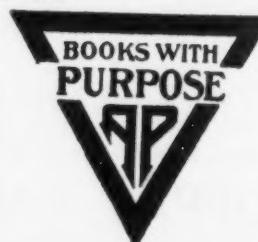

Such experiences as the author describes in "With Our Soldiers in France" forced upon him questions to which he here presents an answer, dealing first with the moral grounds of war, and then with the reasons why America was forced to fight. He states the position of the "Christian Militant."

Announces a New Book by the Eminent Italian Scientist, EUGENIO RIGNANO, editor of SCIENTIA

ESSAYS IN SCIENTIFIC SYNTHESIS

By EUGENIO RIGNANO.

Translated by J. W. Greenstreet, M.A.

Pages, 253. Price $2.00.

These essays appear now for the first time in English. Each essay is a study complete in itself in which the author points out the immense importance of the mathematical method in working out a theory from experimental facts from biological, psychological and sociological fields.

Another important book by the same author is entitled "ON THE INHERITANCE OF ACQUIRED CHARACTERS." Translated by Basil C. H. Harvey. With an appendix "On the Mnemonic Origin and Nature of Affective Tendencies." Price $2.00.

Rignano's studies lie in the borderland between physical chemistry and biology, and not only zoologists, physiologists and physical chemists will be interested in them, but many physicians would find them of practical value.

Over the Top

By SERGEANT ARTHUR GUY EMPYE. For over a year "Over the Top" has been the BIGGEST and BEST SELLER in the United States, and is still so listed.

Tish

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART.

"Tish," a popular character of Mrs. Rinehart's, is a spinster of dauntless personality, who has a talent for tumbling into the most absurd adventures and always sees them through.

The Thirteenth Commandment

By RUPERT HUGHES.

The eternal conflict between finance and romance is the subject of this story. It is an absorbing story of a beautiful, lovable, modern girl who discovered how often the check book's groan drowns the love song.

The Girl Philippa

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.

This story by Robert W. Chambers is not a society novel, but is another of his type of historical novels. He has chosen for his field the opening of the great European War. The story is one of tremendous action and thrills. "The Girl Philippa" one day is cashier in a quiet little restaurant in northern France, and the next finds herself enmeshed in a gigantic plot to steal the secret of the famous Harkness shell.

The Rainbow's End

By REX BEACH.

"The Rainbow's End" is a romance of the Cuban War of Independence. There is a lost treasure, Southern beauty and love, fighting and filibustering, and an Irish-American hero, who was not the kind of a man to leave any of it untasted. Like seeds in Cuban oranges, humor is this story. The lovers of "The Spoilers" and "The Barrier" will enjoy this story.

The Road of Ambition

By ELAINE STERNE.

A story having for a background the great steel industry of the nation. A big story about a big man who did big things in a big way.

Son of Tarzan

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS.

There is just as much action in this volume as in any of the previous books.

TARZAN BOOKS are the big sellers of the day.

A. L. BURT COMPANY,

PUBLISHERS

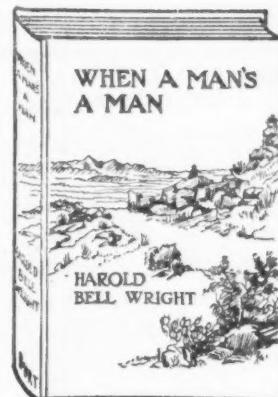

When A Man's A Man

By HAROLD BELL WRIGHT. This book needs no introduction, it being only a question of keeping it in stock in order to meet the demand.

Order liberally for your holiday trade.

The World for Sale

By GILBERT PARKER. Gilbert Parker has again given us a story of the Canadian Northwest, of a land of people that throb with life. In the midst of a northern world just emerging from lawless frontier existence, Parker sets his heroine, a Gypsy girl.

Mary-'Gusta

By JOSEPH C. LINCOLN.

"Mary-'Gusta" is a brand-new type of Cape Cod romance. The little girl, Mary-'Gusta, managed her Cape Cod guardians in spite of their attempts to bring her up. In the midst of the managing process a romance develops that holds the interest of every resident on the Cape, and makes a delightfully humorous and human story.

Big Timber

By BERTRAND W. SINCLAIR.

"Big Timber" is a tale of love and adventure in the logging camps of Vancouver, where a plucky girl marries only to better her position, but finds her husband to be a man "bigger" than she dreamed. A vigorous tale of the Northwest logging camps that moves rapidly.

The Romance of A Christmas Card

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN.

Everyone who has ever known the joys of an old-fashioned home Christmas will enjoy this story. It appeals straight to the heart. Not since "The Bird's Christmas Carol" has a story so brimming with the Christmas spirit, or one so appropriate for Christmas giving, been written.

The Rising Tide

By MARGARET DELAND.

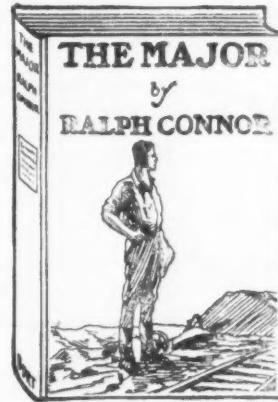

A sympathetic story of a girl of to-day in revolt against the restrictions which bound woman in the past. It is a modern story, touching all that touches the modern woman, who, when she loves, shows the author isn't so different from the old woman after all.

The Major

By RALPH CONNOR.

Think of the thousands of readers of Ralph Connor's books, who will wish to own this story.

Order at once and liberally.

Books, Customers Will Demand The Pick of Our Fall Line

The Triumph of John Kars

By RIDGWELL CULLUM. A great big overpowering tale of the Yukon. A story that will be talked about because of its splendid word painting of dramatic incidents and its clever handling of a difficult plot. Certain to be one of the most read books of the season and to make another Cullum success. Three illustrations and wrapper in full color.

Publication date Oct. 7. 12mo. Cloth. $1.40

Donald McElroy--Scotch-Irishman

By W. W. CALDWELL. An unusually strong piece of fiction because it is based on real happenings of real people during the early history of this country. The episodes relating to the exploits of George Rogers Clark in opening up the Northwest are vividly portrayed. Shows clearly the important part the Scotch-Irish have played in our country's success. Four illustrations. Colored jacket. Publication date Oct. 14. 12mo. Cloth. $1.35

Russia After the Revolution

By CHARLES E. BEURY. The author has just returned from a journey of forty-six thousand miles in Russia, Persia and Turkey. THE NEAR EAST FROM WITHIN

Net $5.00

This astonishing book contains the revelations which the anonymous author, supposedly a highly-placed German diplomat, has felt it his duty to the world to make concerning the vast underhand machinations of the Kaiser with regard to the Balkans, Turkey and Egypt during the past twenty years.

The book quickly went out of print, and the public have been unable to obtain copies. The present publishers feel the time has now come when it is right and just that the reading public should have before them the important information the book offers.

GENERAL FOCH AT THE MARNE

By CHARLES LE GOFFIC. Net, $1.75.

With sixteen illustrations and a map.

An account of the fighting in and near the Marshes of Saint-Gond, with particular attention to the part played by General Foch, in command of the Ninth Army at the battle of the Marne. The translator's preface containing a short account of General Foch's career, will be read with keen interest at the present time. He describes with much animation, personal detail and carefulness, the nature of the operations which centered round the decisive moment of the great battle, which was possibly the turning point of the whole war. His story is tense with repressed excitement dealing as it does with the supreme crisis of his country's history.

FURTHER INDISCRETIONS

By A WOMAN OF NO IMPORTANCE.

Net, $5.00.

"There are not enough indiscretions," was the only criticism levelled at "Memories Discreet and Indiscreet," one of the most successful volumes of reminiscences of recent years. "A Woman of No Importance" therefore decided to be more indiscreet.

Among those who appear in the pages of her new volume are Queen Victoria, Queen Alexandra, King Edward VII, the Duke of Connaught, Cardinal Vaughan, Archbishop Temple, Lord Brampton, "Old Q," Mr. A. J. Balfour, Mrs. Langtry, the ubiquitous German Emperor, Joseph Chamberlain, Henry Labouchere, to name only a few.

THE LITTLE GIRL WHO COULDN'T-GET-OVER-IT

By ALFRED SCOTT BARRY. Net, $1.50.

The New York Times says: "If any lover of the quaint, the whimsical, and the charming should turn aside from Mr. Barry's novel on the supposition that its title indicates a juvenile he would make a great mistake. For it is not at all a juvenile, although children with imaginations are likely to delight in it. On the contrary, so much is it a story for grown-ups that only those with fully developed intellects and hearts can be quite sure of getting the full flavor of its humor, its beauty, its romance, and its significance."

"Apparently it is a 'First novel' and if so, its author is a person to be watched for future books, so unusual and individual is his talent."

SALT. The Education of Griffith Adams

By CHARLES G. NORRIS.

Net, $1.50.

Hailed by the critics as one of the strongest pieces of fiction written in years. The Graphic: "The most interesting novel that I have read this year, and for many a year for that matter."

Chicago Post: "A powerful exhibition of personal literary ability. The characters are real flesh and blood, the writing is strong, unadorned, forceful."

New York Tribune: "This book is assuredly one that must be very seriously reckoned with among the important fiction of today."

POSTAGE EXTRAAT ALL BOOKSTORES*E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 Fifth Ave., New York*A DREAMER UNDER ARMS

By F. G. HURREL.

Net, $1.50.

A war novel which does not describe the actual fighting but the reaction of war and especially of close association with men in the conditions of barracks and trench life on a retired and sensitive man, who hitherto held himself aloof from his fellow creatures and considered himself rather superior to them.

There is a lot of real human interest in this book which makes it quite unlike any other war novel which has yet come out.

THE SILENT WATCHERS:England's Navy During the Great War: What It Is and What We Owe It.

By BENNET COPPLESTONE.

Net, $2.00.

At once a record, an explanation and an appreciation, this remarkable book affords the American reader practically his first opportunity to realize the spirit and the meaning of that vast unsleeping power, the British navy, and what it has meant to the world during the present war.

Mr. Copplestone has had access to high sources of information, his facts are above question and his interpretative and narrative powers are both so unusual as to make this volume not only stimulating and absorbing as a story, but a real landmark in naval literature.

THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE

By VICENTE BLASCO IBANEZ. Net, $1.90.

Author of "The Shadow of the Cathedral," Authorized Translation from the Spanish by CHARLOTTE B. JORDAN.

A superb drama of modern life, leading up to and describing the first stage of the Great War in France.

The "Four Horsemen" are Pestilence, War, Famine, and Death, who precede the Great Beast of the Revelations.

The work of a great genius stirred to the bottom of his soul by the weeks of tension, violence, and horror which culminated in the great epic of the Battle of the Marne, and by the splendor of the Spirit of France under the trial.

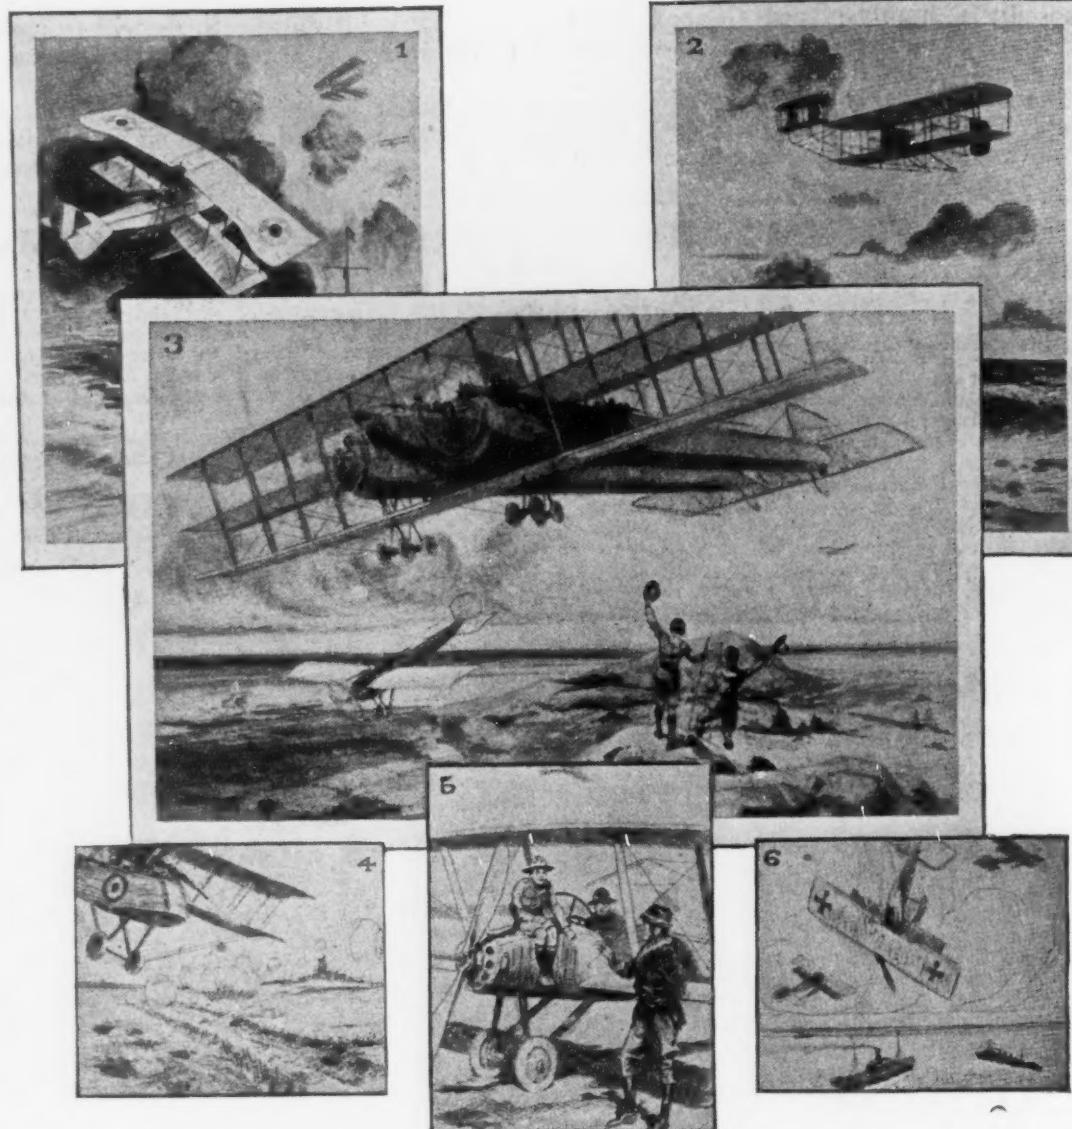

The Trail of the Cloven Foot

By A. HYATT VERRILL.

Net, $1.50.

The search for a lost gold mine in Central America by a party of boys under the guidance of some of their elders who possess one-half of a document showing the location of the mine. Central American scenery and conditions of life at the present day together with the remnants of a past civilization accurately and thoroughly described. Full of useful information and a thoroughly good story of adventure.

Illustrated by HUGH SPENCER from photographs made by the author.

OUR NEW AVIATION BOOK IS READY

The remarkable book we announced to the trade a few months ago is now printed and ready for delivery. We feel that it ought to sell as no juvenile book has ever sold before.

The war has created a deep and permanent interest in aviation. Our Aviation Book satisfies this interest with, absolutely—the BEST. It is filled with thrilling aviation facts that appeal to everybody—grown-ups as well as children.

Our Aviation Book contains 14 pictures in true-to-life colors, 3 black-and-white halftones, and 15 line sketches—made by one of America's most popular magazine illustrators. An idea of their quality can be gained from the much reduced reprints shown above.

The cover is an aerial battle scene that rivets attention. The text is printed in large readable type on heavy paper, bound in boards, cloth back. Covered with beautiful eight-colored jacket. Size, $10\frac{3}{8} \times 13\frac{1}{8}$. Retail price, \$1.50.

The Aviation Book will prove an all-year seller at a splendid margin. You cannot stock it too soon! Many of the shrewdest buyers in the country ordered heavily in advance—before it was off the press! Mail a postal today for complete information and prices. See our display in New York.

ALMANZAR

By
J. FRANK DAVIS
One continuous chuckle

One continuous chuckle

"Almanzar" is the story of a colored house-boy down in "San Antone," of his "white folks," and of negro society in the Texas city as Almanzar knows it. He is a modern negro interpreted lovingly, kindly, and as a human being in a story full of delicious "cullud" humor. Almanzar's amorous adventures—he was always having a new "lady"—furnish part of the fun, and his combination of childlike trust and native shrewdness furnish more. The book is one continuous chuckle.

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY
241 West 37th Street New York City

The Publishers' Weekly
FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT

September 28, 1918

The Editor is not responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. Publishers should send books promptly for weekly record and descriptive annotations, if possible, in advance of publication.

For subscription and advertising rates see first page of Classified Advertising.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men of course do seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves, by way of amends, to be a help and ornament thereunto."—BACON.

$1,370,000 FOR BOOKS

PUBLISHERS should be most keenly interested in the figures which are set forth in the new budget for the American Library Association. Every one of the seven associations who are joining in the great fall campaign for 170 million dollars were obliged to submit to the general headquarters a carefully made budget to show when and why the money is to be needed. The three and a half millions needed by the A. L. A. War Service seems but a small item compared to the sums needed by the Y. M. C. A. and others, but the figures are for all that impressive and those that bear on the book buying expenditures are extremely important to the book-trade.

Publishers know by this time the direction of A. L. A. War Library buying and have been feeling the heavy demands made on their stocks, but new books as well as old will be included in these big purchases and on many items the quantities to be ordered will have a very marked effect on manufacturing problems.

Here is their estimate of probable expenditures for books for the 12 months beginning December 1, 1918:

Books for France	$600,000
" " England	60,000
" Elsewhere abroad	50,000
" for 65 Large American camps and stations at $400 ea...	260,000
" 400 Small American camps and stations at $500 ea...	200,000
" 150 Hospitals at $1000 ea.	150,000
" Naval Vessels	50,000
	$1,370,000

While there is no general contract with the publishers of the books, the common understanding is for a 50% discount on the general lists and 25% discount on the educational lists. At such rates this expenditure might be expected to purchase books that would list at about $2,500,000, perhaps a total of nearly 2,000,000 volumes. This means very real problems in the manufacturing departments of the publishers affected, problems of keeping up the supplies of the old titles that have found a place on the A. L. A. lists, and in planning for heavy drafts from this source on the stocks of new titles.

The War Library Service expended $366,000 on books in nine months to August 1st, or at the rate of about $500,000 a year. With the expenditures nearly tripled for the 12 months following December first, the effect on the book market will be of the greatest importance.

THE PAPER SITUATION

THE Federal Trade Commission report on August consumption shows that 1031 publications used 97,000 tons of newsprint paper; 476 weekly and monthly periodicals used 29,000 tons of book paper; 70 book publishers used 2563 tons of book paper. The 77 mills reported on produced about 70,000 tons of book paper in August, that is these large publishers use 3 2-3% of the book paper produced at present. Such government figures make the book publishing business seem a small enterprise in the printing work, and one cannot but feel that the heavy economies in paper ought to be made elsewhere.

BONDS AND TAXES

Written exclusively for the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, by John Price Jones, Assistant Director of Publicity, Liberty Loan Committee.

War makes heavy demands on the treasures of nations. This war, with its tremendous forces of men under arms, its long battle line and the hitherto unheard-of engines of destruction which modern science has produced, is vastly more expensive than any previous conflict in the history of mankind. Capital—the accumulated riches of the earth—is being used up at an unprecedented rate.

A nation has two ways of raising funds—by taking money and by borrowing it; that is, by taxation and by bond issues. The United States is using both methods. Theorists differ as to the degree to which these methods should be applied. This country began by fairly heavy taxes, which, as the need for money has increased, have been made much heavier both as to individuals and businesses.

But it is obvious that there is a point beyond which taxation may not go, lest the sources of the income be destroyed. A tax which eats up all, or all but a small part, of the profits of a business leaves scant incentive to the carrying on of that business. It discourages initiative—the desire for enlargement of trade; and it handicaps industry by leaving too little margin for improvement and extension of enterprises. So the Government has endeavored, while taxing heavily, to tax wisely—to take the bulk of war profits and a fair share of all profits, but not to injure the vast business fabric of the country. Consequently, as its need for money has grown with the development of war activities, it has become necessary to borrow more money—to issue larger Liberty Loans.

Liberty Bonds, therefore, express to the business interests of the country the Government's policy of fair dealing. To the general public, which can only live and thrive as the industry and commerce of the land prosper, they represent the Government's intention to make business help pay for the war, but not to disable it or to destroy it by extreme taxation.

Bonds are a means of deferring payment of a debt. Liberty Bonds mean that the present generation is not to be called on to pay the entire cost of this unsought war, both in blood and in money. Future generations will reap benefits from the victory which the United States is helping to win, and it is only fair that they should pay, in part, for the years of peace and protection and advanced democracy which must follow that victory.

These are two important phases of the significance of Liberty Bonds to the nation. The immediate importance of a prompt and liberal subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan must be apparent to all good Americans. Without this money the Government would be unable to stand behind our soldiers at the front. They might fall short of food and the vast array of stores which they must have if they are to keep vigorous and move swiftly to victory.

While they are fighting we at home must be working and saving to produce the goods and the money for carrying the war to a successful conclusion. Hence on all grounds we must see to it that the Fourth Liberty Loan goes over the top with a swing.

THE FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

A meeting of the New York committee for publishers and booksellers was held on Monday noon, Sept. 23rd, at the Players Club, where the members were the guests of Mr. George P. Brett, the Chairman, at luncheon. Mr. Charles Scribner and Mr. Whitney Darrow of the general committee met with the Publishers' Committee.

A letter to all publishers and booksellers has been sent out and arrangements have been made for a thoro canvass of the trade by members of the committee and their assistants. The amount raised by the publishers and booksellers in the Third Loan was $1, 437,930. As the Fourth Loan will be double the amount of the Third, the goal of this committee is $2,880,000.

Any publisher or bookseller who has not received a letter from the committee or anyone who wants posters, buttons, speakers, or any other supplies should notify at once the secretary of the committee, Mr. E. B. Callahan, Macmillan Company, 64 Fifth Ave.

All in the trade can be of the greatest service to the committee in this big work if they will take the initiative in writing to some member of the committee regarding their subscription and not wait for a special canvasser. There is a very large number of accounts for a small number of men to handle in a very limited period, and if each individual will do his part the work of the committee will be much more effective.

FOR BOOKSTORE "REFERENCE"

Every bookseller should promptly add to his reference shelf the following new catalogs from the H. W. Wilson Co.:

"Choosing a Play" by Gertrude E. Johnson, Ass't Professor in the Dept. of Public Speaking, Univ. of Wisconsin. Contains bibliographies of current plays useful for dramatic clubs and schools. Price, 45 cents. "Standard Catalog of Sociology." A list of 1000 titles of the most representative books on social, economic, and educational questions, with author and subject index and descriptive notes. Price, $1.00.

"Children's Catalog Supplement, 1916-1917." Contains about 400 new titles not included in the former Children's Catalog. Price, 50 cents.

THE BOOKSHELF FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

A complete juvenile catalog for boys and girls—from nursery rhyme to story-time—will be ready in October. Dealers should order imprint quantities now.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAP OF BUSINESS CONDITIONS.

GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN THE U. S.

In a report reviewing general business conditions the Committee on Statistics and Standards of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, headed by A. W. Douglas of St. Louis, points out that the manufacturing plants are fully employed great difficulty is experienced in obtaining sufficient cars, labor and materials. Reduction of styles in manufactured products, it is set forth, has been welcomed by manufacturers as well as by merchants as a necessary conservation of manpower and materials.

Mining operations are in full blast but the industry is suffering from the labor and transportation shortage.

The lumber industry is doing well but is hampered by lack of cars and labor. Kindred industries such as building and construction, however, are virtually at a standstill. It is pointed out that ultimately the lack of construction operations and other developments must be felt to a greater degree by lumber producers.

Labor, the report declares, is not as efficient as compared with normal times, due largely to calling to the colors of experienced help and the substitution of unskilled labor which has a tendency to shift from one occupation to another. The situation is marked by the steadily increasing employment of women which also is said to be bringing decreased efficiency and increased cost of production.

"The general belief," the report sets forth, "inclines to the conviction that business will continue much as now during the war with possible accentuation of still higher prices, of less buying of luxuries and of greater economy in some directions."

STILL MORE BOOKS NEEDED

With the October campaign for funds just ahead the American Library Association can not stress as much as they would like the urgent need that they have right now for more books as gifts from the public. The bookseller should become the more active in keeping this need in the minds of book buyers.

Here is a paragraph from a letter to camp librarians, dated August 28th:

"We need gift books by the thousands for shipment overseas. If you have more in your library than you are using right now, please report that fact to Headquarters in order that we may send you shipping instructions. We must not hold books in reserve for possible use in American camps four or five months from now when they are actually needed for shipment to France right now."

The hospital libraries must be increased in size and number rapidly. This means a very present need for more books of entertainment and diversion. The bookseller knows well the kind of books these men want and should be unremitting in his efforts to sell more books to be used for this purpose. The War Service Library bookplates will help such selling along. The appeal for help is coming strong and personal from the A. L. A. headquarters and the book-trade should not fail them at this juncture.

The activity of Grosset and Dunlap in backing up these appeals of the A. L. A. is worthy of commendation. They have supplied their travelers with a list of every bookseller who is in the vicinity of a hospital library and put it up to them to give the dealer full knowledge of this peculiar need and opportunity. Such word of mouth propaganda ought to start up the selling everywhere.

AMONG THE PUBLISHERS

F. A. STOKES & Co. are certainly open to congratulations. "Dere Mable" approaches the quarter million mark with three big selling months ahead. This is not publishing luck but publishing acumen, for the house have been enthusiastic believers in this title from the day it went on the market.

RATHER THAN ISSUE a complete new catalog this year when paper is so scarce the Oxford University Press has brought out a 48 page supplement containing the list of new books from July 1, 1917, to July 1, 1918, and a list of price changes with page references to the 1917 catalog. Other publishers would assist in conserving paper, to do likewise.

THE CENTURY COMPANY announces the immediate publication of "Working My Way Around the World" by Harry A. Franck. Lena M. Franck, the editor, has gone thru "A Vagabond Journey Around the World" and taken out the parts most likely to be entertaining to younger readers, condensing the intervening matter.

DOES THE PUBLISHER remember the rather caustic things that St. Elmo Lewis said about publisher advertising copy in his speech at the last Booksellers' Convention? The PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is trying to help the cause of good book advertising by getting the comments from booksellers on the publishers' present copy. It has offered prizes of $50 and $25 for the best comment on the ads. issued in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY in the ten numbers from Sept. 14th. The comments should be worth while.

CLARA WHITEHALL HUNT, the author of "About Harriet," and whose new book "The Little House in the Woods" has just been made by Houghton Mifflin & Co., is to edit the list of books for younger children that is to be part of "The Bookshelf for Boys and Girls" catalog which the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY office will have ready for the book-trade in imprint editions November first. Mabel Betsy Hill, who did the illustrations for Miss Hunt's new book, has made a delightful cover design for the "Bookshelf."

HARPER'S ROUND TABLE sounds familiar, but this is a stranger masquerading under the name of our old friend. The new acquaintance is a little sheet giving news from, or for the Harper men at the front. Most of the material is composed of letters from England and France. One column, however, devoted to affairs at Harper's, is the one the boys are most likely to enjoy, judging from the rather constant echo in letters from the front, "Don't talk about the war, we know enough about that. Tell us all about what the home folks are doing."

NAMES OF BOOKS are a subject for recurring meditation. "An American Family"

by Henry Kitchell Webster (Bobbs-Merrill), and "A Girl Named Mary" by Juliet Wilbor Thompkins (Bobbs-Merrill) both will attract many readers by their names. The essential truth is that to most of us, girls named Mary and American families are things we like to hear about. On the other hand, to name a book "Tales of the War" seems to be courting disaster until we remember that the book will carry another name, a name that brings to most of us strange and haunting pictures like "Perfumes of Arabia," the name of Lord Dunsany (Little, Brown & Co.).

THE J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY announces the immediate publication of the first volume in a new series of monographs covering the subjects of experimental biology and general physiology. This is "Forced Movements, Tropisms, and Animal Conduct" by Jacques Loeb of the Rockefeller Institute.

IT MUST BE a great satisfaction to an artist to have the colors of submitted book illustrations reproduced with the beauty of the Voland work. "Peeps," a new volume in the Happy Books, has some notable color work.

MCLoughlin Bros. have such an effective cover for their big children's "Aviation Book" that every dealer will be likely to use it for window display.

IT SEEMS a happy idea of Little, Brown & Co.'s to publish a volume of the best chapters of "Mahan on Naval Power." It makes much of this war easier to understand.

IT OUGHT TO BE some incentive to the writers of the publishers' ad. copy to realize that the results are going to be carefully viewed by the contestants for the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY prizes for the best comments on book advertisements.

MRS. HUGH FRASER'S "Diplomatist's Wife in Many Lands" takes on quite a new interest, now that the countries she knew so well are all undergoing such tremendous changes. It seems like a good venture to put out the two volumes in one at $3.00, as Dodd, Mead has just done.

SCRIBNER'S Modern Student's Library has added some good titles for trade use. Dr. Crothers writes the introduction for "Pilgrim's Progress" and William Lyon Phelps for "Stevenson's Essays."

MUNICIPAL HOUSECLEANING by Capes and Carpenter (Dutton) ought to be good for at least two or three sales in any City Hall.

A NEW SERIES of American biographies is undertaken by Scribner's under the name "Figures from American History." It starts with "Thos. Jefferson" and "Jefferson Davis." The volumes are 12mo, red cloth, at $1.50. Several other volumes are announced.

MAKING GOOD IN WAR TIME

How to Better My Position

There is much of value in the Larkin Co.'s (Buffalo) reply to a young man who wrote them asking "What Can I Do to Better My Position?" Printers' Ink gives the letter in full. We shall just quote from it:

"Salary depends entirely upon the man and the education, experience and personality he brings with him.

"Perhaps the best thing you can do is to take a few minutes after dinner some night and weigh yourself. Take a good mental inventory and a first-class survey of your possibilities.

"We start a man at the bottom—whether he stays there or gradually climbs to the top depends upon his patience, cheerfulness, adaptability, individuality and willingness to be taught.

"Read, study, think and observe. Mingle with people in all walks of life. Write all the letters you can on various topics. The best way to learn to write is to write. The best way to learn to talk is to talk.

"Two or three good books on psychology would be a profitable investment. And, if you haven't a dictionary, you should buy one at once. A copy of Fernald's Synonyms and Antonyms would make an excellent companion for your dictionary.

"Success ordinarily depends upon the man and not upon his locations. There are many men who if dropped out of a balloon in the Sahara Desert would soon find a way to keep from starving.

"If your backbone is of the spaghetti variety, I urge you to strengthen it quickly. Get the 'I will' spirit thoroughly injected into your system and then go forth with a determination to conquer new worlds. Don't try to do all of your conquering in one day. Do a little to-day and a little more to-morrow. Neither worlds nor men are created in a day. The making of a worth-while world or a worth-while man is a big job which takes time, and a lot of it."

War Maps Draw Crowds

It does not matter that it has been done a hundred times before or whether it is done on Broadway or Fifth Ave., Main St. or Court House Sq., every time a store puts a big detailed map of the French front in the window with city names and battle lines the sidewalk is lined up with interested people. The bookseller is the best one to do it, for he knows where to get the large scale maps and can make money by selling them inside.

Tools of Your Trade

With the new Trade List Annual now being delivered and giving full information of changed prices, and the new U. S. Catalog Supplement (1912-1917) promised for later in the fall, the problem of pricing list and taking special orders is going to be greatly simplified. No bookseller, book department or book agency of any kind should fail to have these tools of his trade.

Help the Parents

Many parents want books for their children but don't know just what titles are best for them.

You can help these mothers and fathers by placing a copy of the "Bookshelf for Boys and Girls" in their hands.

This Bookshelf is a 48 page catalog of approved books for children from nursery rhyme to story time. The list which contains over 750 titles is now being compiled by Miss Clara Hunt, supervisor of children's work in the Brooklyn Public Libraries; Miss Sheldon Fletcher, head of the children's department of the Newark Public Library; Mr. Franklin Mathews, Librarian of the Boy Scouts of America.

Booksellers may purchase copies of the "Bookshelf for Boys and Girls" with their imprint, at the actual manufacturing cost. Please order now—so we shall know how many to print.

PERSONAL NOTES

HARRY J. SIMONSON, JR., who has been on the staff of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY for the past six months is about to sail for France in response to the call of the Red Cross for more workers in the ambulance service. His many friends will wish him every good luck while "over there" and a safe return to peaceful pursuits when the Hun cries quits.

GEORGE BRETT, JR., who received his commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army less than a year ago, and who was made First Lieutenant in the spring, has now been promoted to a captaincy.

Captain Brett is the son of George P. Brett, the President of the Macmillan Company, and before the war was New York City salesman for that concern. He is now somewhere in the front line trenches in France.

MR. WM. C. ROBINSON is joining the staff of the Page Co., to cover Chicago and the West, including Western Canadian. Mr. Robinson, who started business at Wanamakers, has made his reputation in the book trade by building up the book department of Stern Bros., New York.

MR. EDWIN J. ANDERSON will go to the Page Co. from the desk of managing editor of the Boston Record and will cover New England, the Middle States and part of the West.

BUSINESS NOTES

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—W. C. Walsh has opened a new store, the Brampton Book Shop.

LONG BEACH, CAL.—Floyd T. Vons has closed out his business, as "non-essential" during the war.

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—Samuel Weinberg has opened a shop for books and stationery at 185 Church Street.

BOOK-TRADE ORGANIZATIONS

The Woman's National Book Association held its first meeting of the year Sept. 19, at Sherwood's, 40 John Street. Mrs. Sherwood presided, and Miss Smith, formerly of Cleveland, now at Best & Co., made the speech of the evening on "Juvenile Books." About fifteen members were present.

The PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY being a dignified publication cannot tell the story of the real fun—the grand fight over fairy-tales in which Mrs. Sherwood gallantly held the fort alone against an invading party armed to the teeth, the subject of the first argument, or the question of the suspected guest—all these things must be allowed to go into oblivion with the good time that accompanied them.

But one thing certainly must not be forgotten, and that was the great end of a fine speech when Miss Smith urged us not to let a standard of "negative virtue" prevail in children's books. To let a child live upon books which merely "have no harm in them," is to feed him on mental soda water, she said. A book must be good and good for something. Throughout the speech was the tone of the fine old warning, "The greatest reverence is due to youth."

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, OF THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, published weekly at New York, N. Y., for October 1, 1918.

The Publishers' Weekly

Subscription Rates.

One year, postage prepaid in the United States, $5.00; foreign, $6.00.
Single copies, 10 cents. Educational Number, in leatherette, 50 cents, Christmas Bookshelf, 25 cents.

Advertising Rates.

Front section (full pages only).....	$35.00
(Back section, unspecified position)
One page	30 00
Half page	17 00
Quarter page	9 00
Eighth page	5 00
One-sixteenth page	2 50

The above rates are for unspecified positions. Special rates for preferred positions (full pages only).

Higher rates are charged for the Summer Reading, Educational Number and Christmas Bookshelf, and for the monthly Book Review supplement sections.

Advertising copy should reach us Tuesday noon—earlier if proof is desired out-of-town. Forms close Thursday night.

Under the headings of "BOOKS WANTED" and "BOOKS FOR SALE" book-trade subscribers are given under their own names five nonpareil lines (exclusive of address) free advertising for specified books, not more than one title to the line, in any issue except special numbers, but not exceeding one hundred lines a year, a maximum of fifty lines under "Books Wanted" and fifty lines under "Books for Sale," and if over five lines are sent for either department in only one issue, or fifty lines for each department within the calendar year, the excess is at ten cents a line. Bills for this service will be rendered monthly. Objectionable books are excluded so far as they are noted.

In answering, please state edition, condition and price, including postage or express charges. Houses that will deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis should put [Cash] after their firm name. The appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the WEEKLY does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it endeavors to safeguard its columns by withholding the privileges of advertising should occasion arise, booksellers should take usual precautions in extending credit.

"Books Wanted" must be designated by actual title, not by "any."

Write your wants plainly, on one side of the sheet only. Illegible "wants" are ignored. The WEEKLY is not responsible for errors. Parties with whom there is no account must pay in advance.

Under "HELP WANTED" or for other small undisplayed advertisements, the charge is 15 cents a nonpareil line. No reduction for repeated matter. Count seven words to the line.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

One line, $7; two, $12; three, $16; four, $20 a year.

STOKES' AUTUMN FICTION

The STAR in the WINDOW

By OLIVE HIGGINS PROUTY

Author of "The Fifth Wheel," and "Bobbie, General Manager."

The romance of an American girl, unique, a-quiver with real life—the best so far by the author. An up-to-the-minute novel, it necessarily touches on the War—yet every scene is laid in America.

Recommend it to all who like a good love story, concerned with the things we are thinking about today, written by one who knows how to picture life.

This novel has never appeared in any periodical.
Cloth, 12mo, net $1.50.

The LURE Of the NORTH

By HAROLD BINDLOSS

Author of "The Girl from Keller's," etc.

A story of lost treasure in which the chief seeker is a fearless girl. Unusual and stirring adventures in the trackless forests of Northern Canada add zest to the hunt for a lost silver lode, and make the story one of intense interest. With frontispiece. Cloth, 12mo, net $1.40.

FAST as the WIND

BY NAT GOULD

Author of "The Rider in Khaki," etc.

A thrilling story of horses and racing, in which the mystery of a past crime and a prison escape are interwoven to make an exciting novel of the genuine Nat Gould order.

Eleven million Nat Gould novels have been sold in Great Britain and 2,000 to the American Red Cross for our men. Cloth, 12mo, net $1.25.

The GHOST GARDEN

By AMELIE RIVES

Author of "Shadows of Flames," etc.

An extraordinary romance of two lovers and a haunted garden in beautiful old Virginia—a new version of the eternal triangle, with one of its points in the spirit world. It will appeal to those readers who like beauty rather than horror in a ghost story.

"She is entitled to the credit of having told a new kind of ghost story, a very different kind. . . . Its supernatural episodes are of a sort to charm the senses. . . . A very good story, perhaps the best Princess Troubetzkoy has ever written."—N. Y. Times. With frontispiece in color. Cloth, 12mo, net $1.50.

1637-1918

THE first Oxford Bible bears the date 1637. The sales have steadily risen since that time until now over 1,250,000 copies are sold annually. Some remarkable editions have appeared. In 1717 the "Vinegar Bible" was issued, so-called because at St. Luke XX the "Parable of the Vineyard" was called the Vinegar. In 1801 the "Murderers' Bible (murderers for murmurs in Jude 16) and in 1810 the "Wife-hater Bible (wife for life in St. Luke XIV, 26) were published. Nowadays errors are extremely rare as each edition is read seven times before publication.

35 WEST 32nd STREET, NEW YORK

The Oxford University Press, alone among the Presses of the world, is able to produce a list of all its publications for 332 years.

The first Oxford book known is the Latin Commentary by St. Jerome (really by Rufinus of Aquileia) on the Apostles' Creed, which bears the date 1468; but this is assumed to be an early printer's error, possibly intentional, and should doubtless be 1478. The first classic of any kind printed in England, it is claimed, was Cicero's oration "Pro Milone," issued about 1480 and believed to be a product of the Oxford Press.

The Press is ancient but its publications keep step with the latest thoughts of the day

Nelson's History of the War

A Continuous Narrative of the Great Struggle Now Raging in Europe

An actual record of events as they have taken place, written by one who has been at the front for many months and knows conditions. It is good reading for the present, and an authoritative record for the future.

By JOHN BUCHAN, B.A., former Private Secretary to Lord Milner, High Commissioner of Africa during the South African War; author of THE AFRICAN COLONY, SIR WALTER RALEIGH, THE MARQUIS OF MONTROSE, and other works.

Issued in Monthly Volumes

Bound in Red Extra Cloth; gold title; 12mo size; 60c. per volume
Volume XX Now ready

Major-General Sir Francis Lloyd says: "This book ought to be in the hands of everybody and in every public library."

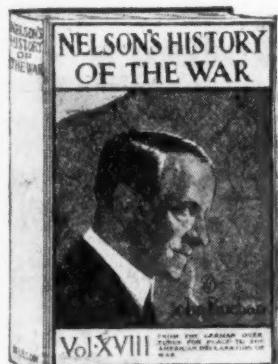

Field-Marshal Lord Methuen says: "It is the clearest and best description that I have yet read."

Several sets have been purchased by the War Department for the American Expeditionary force.

PRESS NOTICES

"A lucid and very readable history—the work of a writer who again shows his skill and address in dealing with historical facts, arranging them in their proper sequence, and presenting them with effect."—Times.

"It stands quite apart from every other book on the war thus far published, being as it is a well-ordered, comprehensive narrative of the operations in all fields and done with literary skill and power of unusual kinds."—Literary Digest.

a new humorist arrives!

h. b. creswell is his name and he has written

t h o m a s

a novel of irresistible fun

When that irrepressible young man, Thomas, undertook to do anything he insisted on doing it in his own way—and Thomas's way was more than strange. So, of course, when he took a vacation it was unlike any vacation that had ever been heard of before. That vacation is really the story—and from the moment Thomas packs his bags and starts Susan (who is a host in herself) on her way, until his return to Sanity and Nita, you are carried off on the merriest, maddest and most enjoyable of journeys that you ever took, either in a book or out of it. Just take a trip with Thomas—it's as good as a vacation any day. $1.40 net.

fields and battlefields

by no. 31540

A sergeant in the Medical Corps writes of the tortured fields of France in whose grim and anguished atmosphere he valiantly served. He sets before us the work of the Medical Corps with memorable skill in a book which, for its tenderness, its idealism, its gleams of momentary humor, and its tragic reality should find a place in the memory of its readers long after a large part of the books on the war have been forgotten. $1.50 net.

living the creative life

by joseph h. appel

Not merely a guide to material success, but to the richer life which involves our spiritual welfare, as well as our material well-being. The author tells how by following a definite plan of living he has secured an unusual amount of happiness and contentment. Just how he did it—and how others can do the same thing—this book explains. $1.50 net.

rimes in olive drab

by sergeant john pierre roche

This is—if not the very first—one of the first books of poems to come from one of our own soldiers in the present war. Some of the verses, notably "You Were So White, So Soft," have been widely reprinted in newspapers following their publication in various magazines. Bound in olive drab cloth, pocket size. $1.00 net.

Expressive English

By JAMES C. FERNALD, L.H.D., Author of "A Working Grammar of the English Language," "English Synonyms, Antonyms, and Prepositions, etc." 12mo, Cloth. Price, $1.60, Net.

This new book by one of our leading authorities on English gives a real understanding of the language and shows how it may be used with the greatest beauty and effect. Its nineteen chapters, which cover all phases of English expression in a practical and usable way, are models of worthwhile instruction in the deft and forceful handling of our mother-tongue.

Wit, Wisdom, and Foibles of the Great

Together with Numerous Anecdotes Illustrative of the Characters of Peoples and their Rulers. Collected and arranged by CHARLES A. SHRINER. Royal 8vo, Cloth. Price, $5.00, Net.

An intensely interesting collection of the sayings and doings of men and women who have been prominent in one way or another, by birth or genius, showing the human side of kings, emperors, statesmen, soldiers, jurists, and other eminent personages.

Cecil Rhodes, Man and Empire Maker

By PRINCESS CATHERINE RADZIWILL, Author of "Sovereigns and Statesmen of Europe," "Germany Under Three Emperors," etc. Crown, 8vo, Cloth, Illustrated. Price, $3.00, Net.

In this, her most recent volume, the author affords us a wonderful study of this intensely human personality at close range, his greatness and his weakness, his soaring ambitions and his sensitive nature. She also makes clear for us the tangles of South African politics, lays bare the intrigues that lurked behind the celebrated Jameson Raid and the outbreak of the Boer War, and details the methods by which the British have welded the once struggling nations of the dark continent into a peaceful and prosperous democracy.

Recent Publications of Notable Value

How to Build Mental Power

By GRENVILLE KLEISER, Author of "How to Speak in Public," "How to Develop Power and Personality," etc. 8vo, Cloth. With diagrams. Price, $3.00, Net.

A forceful and inspiring book showing how life's most difficult problems can be met and overcome by the cultivation of the right mental attitude. It sets forth a constructive philosophy of optimism that can not fail to carry conviction with it, and gives admirable advice as to controlling the will, concentrating one's energies, training one's mental faculties, and generally fitting oneself to make a practical success of life, whatever one's environment may be. A liberal education in a condensed form that can be studied with profit at odd moments.

Knowing Insects Through Stories

By FLOYD BRALLIAR. 8vo, Cloth. Illustrated with 6 Colored Plates and 6 Half-tones. Price, $1.60, Net.

Here we have the amazing truths of insect life unfolded in simple language in the form of stories that will fascinate both children and adults. Bees, butterflies, moths, grasshoppers, wasps, ants, flies and other denizens of the woods and fields are described in a particularly interesting and non-technical way.

The Unsound Mind and the Law

A Presentation of Forensic Psychiatry

By GEORGE W. JACOBY, M.D., Author of "Child Training as an Exact Science." Large 8vo, Cloth. Price, $3.00 Net.

Deals with the general relation that jurisprudence bears to the treatment and restraint of those suffering from mental disorders and treats of expert testimony by brain and nerve specialists.

Nerve Control and How to Gain It

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE, Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Hafidicaps of Childhood," etc. 12mo, Cloth, Price, $1.00, Net.

Discusses the whole question of nervous troubles and their causes in a chatty, non-technical manner that will appeal to the laymen. It treats of foods, exercise, and habits in their bearing on the nervous condition of the individual, of irritability, of insomnia, melancholia, worry, timidity, the value of the right outlook, the blessings of relaxation, the curative quality of fresh air, and a host of other phases of this most important subject.

Books For and About the Fighters

The Near East From Within

New popular $1.50 Edition, with Special Preface by the Author. We are the Original and Only Authorized Publishers of the American Edition of this Noted Book.

An intimate description by a high political personage, who prefers to remain anonymous, of the political and military situation in the Balkans leading up to the present war. This fascinating and astonishing book reveals the true facts underlying years of secret intrigue and diplomatic sharp practise. The author, who has been behind the scenes in a number of the courts described, throws a startling light upon the history of the Near East by his clever exposé of the plots and counter-plots of Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Enver Pasha, the agents of Germany in the Balkans, etc. A book that no one interested in the Eastern theater of war can afford to miss.

METAPHYSICAL NOVELS

By CHARLES FRANCIS STOCKING, E. M.

"CARMEN ARIZA." (Sixth Edition Ready. Now Being Filmed.) The dramatic story of a girl who rescued a priest from his chains of bigotry and death through her working knowledge of obsolete, war-causing human beliefs, of the poisonous weeds of mentalized religion, and the suppositional-opposite nature of evil and the methods of combating it. Its treatment of the questions of a "future state," of death, matter, and the origin and destiny of the human mind is the most remarkable and successful ever embodied in a novel. Colored frontispiece, cloth, $1.85 net. Leather, $2.25 net. De Luxe, leather, gilt edges, $2.75 net. Postage 15c.

"THE MAYOR OF FILBERT." (Now Being Filmed.) Strange story of the proprietor of two saloons and a brewery saved from the curse of his own business. "It is to the liquor traffic what Uncle Tom's Cabin was to slavery." The book that will make your town "dry." Offers that sort of education which is a stronger protection to government than a standing army. Particularly for wives and mothers to give their husbands and sons, as it is a book for men. Cloth, 3 illustrations. $1.25 net. Postage 10c.

"THE DIARY OF JEAN EVARTS." (Eighth Edition Now Ready.) In this beautifully written treatise, composed by the author in the sun-kissed hills of California, a young girl in the last stages of tuberculosis, hopeless of human aid and denouncing God and man-made creeds, receives a new truth—and with it a new sense of life. How this was accomplished is the vital message which this book has carried around the world to thousands of helpless, discouraged, sin-weary sufferers, becoming truly a "light shining in dark places." The Service Book of Greatest Sales Possibilities

We believe the last word in war record and scrap books for the families and friends of all those in the U. S. Army or Navy has been said in His SERVICE BOOK, which is in preparation for early delivery.

His SERVICE BOOK, the impressively simple and beautiful cover of the Regular Edition of which is here faintly suggested in black and white, will be larger than any similar book—8 x 11 inches—substantially bound in gray cloth, the service flag being shown in the original colors on a paper label occupying practically the whole of the cover, with title in gold. It will consist of frontispiece in gray half tone, and 64 pages of heavy gray cover stock with the artistic ripple finish, each page having a patriotic border printed in blue. However, it is

Much More Than a Blank Record Book

• It has several pages of carefully selected text—short, stirring and helpful messages in prose and verse by well known writers and public men, including President Wilson, Theodore Roosevelt, Theodosia Garrison, Laurence Binyon, etc. These selections make it

THIS YEAR'S IDEAL XMAS GIFT

The pages are large enough to permit the pasting in of many actual letters from the front, as well as numerous snapshots, clippings, etc. And you can really write on every page, if you wish. Each inside cover has a handy pocket, and there are numerous blank lines to be filled in, giving date of "His Enlistment," when "He First Goes Over the Top," "His Promotions," "His Medals," etc.

Two DeLuxe Editions Also

Besides the Regular and "Gold Star" Editions, which sell at $2.00, two de luxe editions are in preparation, one in an unusually effective quality of imitation cowhide, with a smaller service flag design embossed in colors, to sell at $5.00; the other in genuine leather, with still another and less ornate cover, priced at $7.50.

This is going to be a sales leader. It will make the most striking window display. PUSH IT. Clip local draft lists, promotions, casualties, etc., and follow up intensively.
